Language for Life Newsletter

Issue 15

At Language for Life we offer fun and interactive English classes, integrating each student's learning needs and goals into our teaching approach.

Our teaching materials are always changing and evolving. This allows students to continue their studies with us long-term.

Language for Life is a place of collaboration between teacher and student. The best learning outcomes can be achieved with fully committed teachers and learners.

If you are serious about learning English and are committed to doing the work it takes to be successful, we are the place for you.

April Classes and Private Lessons

Registration has been in full swing (Idiom: level of activity is at its highest).

All April classes are now full.

If you are interested in learning with us, you can register for a free language and learning needs assessment and we will place all interested students on our current wait list.

We still have availability for private or semi private lessons.

We know that everyone's schedules are different and our evening classes fill up very quickly. So, don't forget, we offer General English, IELTS, CELPIP and CELBAN preparation in private, or semi-private (2-people) lessons with flexible hours.

We will work with you to schedule your personal lesson time.

Intensive English Course - pilot project

(Idiom: activity planned as a test or trial)

In January we launched our first intensive daytime English course. We had been interested in offering an intensive course for a while and based on student interest, we held our first 8 week course from January - April, every Monday - Thursday, from 10 am - 12 pm.

We are happy to announce that it was a success and we will consider the possibility of future intensive courses.

If an intensive course is something you might be interested in, let us know! 😊

Attendees' testimonials:

"You taught us grammar accurately and easily....It was fun to learn idioms used in everyday life. What I liked the most was that you answered all the questions sincerely and of course, I am going to recommend this class to my friends."

"I really enjoyed your intensive class, especially make a structure of my grammar.

I really liked we could talk about everything. For example: I could pronounce some words properly and you gave me the right sound. If I couldn't understand some expressions in life, you made me full understand... around me I always recommend you as best teacher in my life."

"I enjoyed that course and I really know you wanted to teach us all the knowledge that you know. Thank you corrected our homework with your free time. I found an intensive useful.....we talked about our life and culture in the class. It improved our English speaking but also we became friends..... I would like to recommend this class to my friends!"

"In my opinion, the course is useful for me, I can keep reviewing the English grammar and learn about customs and culture of Canada, at the same time I also get a lot of new words.

My feel happiness about the course, I have improvements obviously."

Teacher's comments:

We laughed, we learned and we became friends!

Teaching this intensive class was thoroughly enjoyable.

This group of students was extremely hardworking and committed and we are so proud of them for their accomplishment.

They improved their language skills and they had a lot of fun doing it.

It was an honour to work with each and every one of them.

Keep up the hard work!!

Happy Easter to all current and future students from the Language for Life team!
